

NINETEENTH YEAR, No. 19

GLEICHEN, ALBERTA, WEDNESDAY, JULY 29, 1925

SUBSCRIPTION $2.00 A YEAR

WHEAT POOLS TO PAY 15,000,000

A Winnipeg despatch says fifteen million dollars will be paid to members of the inter-provincial wheat pools before August 1, according to an official statement issued by the president of the Canadian Co-operative Wheat Producers, Limited. The second interim payment will amount to twenty cents a bushel, basis No. 1 wheat, and brings the total already distributed to $1.55 a bushel on the 1924 crop. The statement intimates that the final instalment will be made some time next month.

Due to the volume of wheat received by the pool during recent weeks, the 1924 pool was not closed until July 15.

Twenty cents a bushel will be paid on No. 1, 2, 3 and 4 northern, also the toughs of these grades; fifteen cents on No. 5, tough 5, and rejected grades, and ten cents will be paid on No. 6, tough, smutty, and rejected of other grades. No payment, the statement says, will be paid at this time on feed and such wheat graded rejected, heated and condemned. Spreads on grades will be adjusted when the final payment is made.

DIRECT COST OF GREAT WAR
ESTIMATED AT $186 BILLION*Nearly Ten Million Died and Three Million More Were Missing

After several years' work the League of Nations has finished the first complete assessment of the material losses of the world war, officially compiled from all nations that participated.

Here is the net result of the shot fired eleven years ago to-day by a gay Austrian officer.

9,998,771 known dead.
2,991,800 presumed dead
6,295,512 seriously wounded
4,002,039 otherwise wounded
$186,333,637, direct cost of the war
$29,960,000,000 property loss of the war
$33,551,276,280, capitalized value of loss of life

In assessing the capitalized value of life lost, the league figures the value of a human life for war purposes at 4,720 for Americans, $4,110 for British and $2,900 French.

POPULAR COUPLE ARE SARANADED

Monday night about 200 friends from Gleichen and surrounding district, accompanied by the Gleichen Brass Band, proceeded to Harry Scott's farm, about six miles west of town and gave Mr. and Mrs. Scott a genuine serenade, the occasion being the announcement of their wedding which took place in Calgary on Wednesday, July 15th, the bride, formerly Mrs. Morrow of Calgary, being known to few in this district but appraised as a very estimable lady.

Everybody knows "Harry" Scott and if there is a more popular gentleman in this province he has yet to be heard of. When about 50 cars drove up to his farm it is doubtful if there was anyone quite so pleased as Harry. The gates swung wide, and the doors of his home were opened and one and all given a most hearty welcome. Major Lewis took charge of the happy couple and from the veranda of their fine residence presented them to the crowd. Then while the band dispensed cheerful music and a bon fire burned the crowd extended their congratulations and tripped the light fantastic on the lawn. At mid-night a splendid lunch brought by the ladies was most heartily partaken of after which all adjourned to the Meadowbrook Hall where dancing was indulged in until morn.

You are going to the Meadowbrook baseball tournament Friday.

MEADOWBROOK
TOURNAMENT

Friday next is to be a great day at the Meadowbrook Community Hall, when a baseball tournament will take place between Milo, Cluny, Arrowood and Meadowbrook teams at 1:30 sharp in the afternoon and will be followed that evening by a dance in the hall. Everybody is invited and it is expected the attendance will be very large.

TOWN AND DISTRICT

Mrs. Moe is visiting relatives and friends at Empress.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford and family leave on Saturday to spend two weeks vacation at Banff.

Mrs. McIntyre with Misses Margery and Helen, left Sunday to visit her home at Kindersley, Sask.

Mrs. G. B. Johnston spent the past week in Gleichen renewing acquaintances. She was the guest of Mrs. Hugh Bates.

The Misses Irene and Hazel Brookbank, of Rosetown, Sask., left on Sunday for Banff after spending the past two weeks visiting their aunts, Madames Ostrander, Kobel Pinder and MacPhee.

A. Chard, provincial government freight supervisor is engaged now in conferring with the boards of trade through the province for the purpose of collecting data on the question of freight rates for submission to the railway commission of Canada when it begins the investigation of freight rate equalization.

The tourist season in Alberta is now at its height and every day sees large numbers of tourists passing through the province on visiting the famous mountain resorts. Special trains carrying tourist parties are the order of the day, and the indications are that Alberta will close the season with a much larger total of tourists than for any previous year.

The Vulcan baseball team paid Gleichen a visit Tuesday evening and played the Gleichen ball club a friendly game. Gleichen won the long end of a 11-8 score. The game was advertised to start at 6 p. m. but it was 6:50 before Umpire Clifford started the game, the delay being caused by the non arrival of some of the players. In the first inning Vulcan made one run and the home boys piled up six to the astonishment of everyone present. No more runs were made until the fourth inning when Vulcan made two and one in the fifth and four in the sixth. Gleichen made two runs in the fifth and three more in the sixth and thereby clinched the game. After Vulcan went to bat in the eighth inning the game was called on account of darkness. The Vulcan boys were short some of their regular players, and, therefore, did not give the exhibition that was expected of them.

There was a fair crowd in attendance, and from the caliber of the game everyone expected to be played, would lead one to expect a great crowd would be on hand.

Following is the Gleichen lineup: Norton, catcher; Stevenson, pitcher; J. McArthur, 1st b.; Resvold, 2nd b.; Wright 3rd b.; A. Wilson r.f.; Summerville, c.f. and McIntyre l.f.

A renewal of arrangements for the removal of settlers from the drouth areas of southeastern Alberta has been made by the Provincial Department of Agriculture with the railway companies and the Federal Government. This has been done owing to the request received from a number

THE CHAUTAUQUA PROGRAM
BEST EVER GIVEN

It is conceded that this year's program, all considered, was the best of the seven Chautauqua has given Gleichen. It was an outstanding program that for variety and worthwhile entertainment the management may well be proud of. Other years we also have had good programs in which there were many excellent features, but considered connectedly this year's surpassed and seems to have been the most popular. Each of the six days program contained features that appealed to those who attended, and there is hardly a person within a radius of fifteen miles that did not attend at least one or more of the entertainments and many came a considerable distance further.

To our merchants Chautauqua has now become a source of drawing considerable business, and it is suggested that another year special Chautauqua features be advertised ahead by our business men in order that the visitors to town get the advantage of a few special bargains, which would enhance the Chautauqua spirit.

The fact that 116 signatures were easily obtained for the contract for next year is sufficient evidence that Chautauqua is considered worthy of support and that the programs are satisfactory.

The weather, too, was ideal throughout the week, and another feature was the dates proved most convenient for our farmers, which is always hard to gauge, as their work depends so much on the elements.

The program is so lengthy and varied that it would be impossible in our limited space to attempt anything like a fair report of the artists individually. The musical numbers, plays and sketches very popular. The lectures were most interesting, entertaining and instructive.

Of those not mentioned in our last issue Judge Bale in "The Fourth Line of Defence" proved up to his advance announcements, and also in "The Fiddler and the Fire".

Dr. Hulbert's lecture "Where East Meets West", is still occupying the minds of those who heard him, as his was a new line to most people in this part of the world and intensely interesting. Some would very much like to hear this lecture repeated.

Dr. Rivers, who lectured here two years ago, had a very timely subject in "The Second Chance, or Lessons from Life." It is too infrequent that one hears the truth in such plain language, but it is good to know that in Dr. Rivers there is at least one fearless Canadian.

NEW POOLS ARE READY NOW TO ORGANIZE

The new provincial dairy, livestock and poultry co-operative marketing have now obtained a sufficient number of five-year contracts for purposes of organization, as a result of the drive for memberships which has been going on for the past month or more. The provisional boards of all three pools announce that they have obtained more than their minimum objective of contracts, and that plans are now being made for the establishment of the permanent organizations for the management and operation of the pools.

of farmers in that area who have been faced with a prospect of another crop failure this year and desire to be removed to other locations in the province. The provincial government does not attempt to influence the settlers as to the locations to which they will move, but assists them in moving and in getting located. In an effort to interest these settlers in the irrigated lands of the Lethbridge Northern Irrigation district, James Pike, colonization manager of the district, has canvassed the situation, and now has 100 applications for location on the track.

WEEKLY CROP REPORT
PRAIRIE PROVINCES

Winnipeg:—Since the last report issued by the agricultural department of the Canadian Pacific Railway the western crop conditions have been much more favorable. Large areas in each province have received rains, varying from light showers to many hours precipitation, and weather has been comparatively cool, while rain has been experienced in many districts which were badly in need of moisture and was of benefit to all localities, except where crops were beyond recovery. There are still numerous points in Saskatchewan, particularly, which need further rainfall. Present indications are that cutting on a general scale will commence in all three provinces around the middle of August. There have been no further reports of hail during the week and no indications of increased rust development. The first cutting of alfalfa is completed and second growth coming along strong. In quite a number of districts in the west barley will be cut during the week. Livestock deliveries continue heavy for this time of the year with prices remaining about the same level as last week.

It is estimated that 69,000 harvesters will be required to take off the western crop and of this number 18,000 can be obtained from the three prairie provinces. The first harvesters excursion from the east is due to reach Winnipeg August 13th.

Manitoba:—Cool breezy weather has been entirely favorable for crop growth and contributed to a large extent from the heat of the previous week. Conditions were just what were needed to hold back rust and to develop good sample of grain. Barley and rye cutting in the province will start at many points during the present week. Both grains promising good samples.

Saskatchewan:—Heavy rains were general over the whole of the southern Saskatchewan and showers were experienced in many other parts of the province. Rains were of great benefit to crops in general which are now making good progress except on limited acreage of light soil where extreme heat has done much damage. Conditions over the entire province, with the exception of districts in the southwest referred to in last week's report, is still promising in this province for a good wheat crop. Practically all wheat is in head and a fair percentage in flowering stage.

Alberta:—General rains during the past week have been quite light, but accompanying cool weather will benefit filling grains and will be particularly helpful in the southern districts to crops that still have a chance for recovery. The yield there will be increased and quality improved. Many districts are still in need of rain, however, and conditions along Coronation, Lacombe, Wetaskiwin, Leduc and Alberta Central sub-divisions are described as good.

Edmonton, Dunvegan, and B.C. railway—Wheat cutting should be general in two weeks time in this district according to the report. Local showers at most points have helped to counteract previous weeks of drouth. Damage of crops where rainfall was forthcoming are looking better than expected.

One of the most unique exhibits ever displayed in Canada, and one which has attracted attention from one end of the dominion to the other is the display of the miniature Holy Land which has been shown in Edmonton for the past few weeks. This miniature of the Holy Land was manufactured by Ganci Brothers, two Sicilians, who have been working for more than eleven years in their home in Edmonton on the exhibit. The exhibit includes sixty million pieces and has 900 moving figures. Biblical scenes in amazing detail are reproduced in miniature. The exhibit is to be shown throughout Canada and the United States. It is valued at many thousands of dollars.

That elk, in the Panther River country, not far from Banff, are rapidly increasing in number and may possibly become a menace, is the opinion of Ouelmore Brown, an artist of New York who recently returned from a painting tour through the Rocky Mountains. Mr. Brown is regarded as an authority on wild animals and states that there will be, ten years from now, 10,000 elk in the district, unless steps are taken to decrease their numbers.

Canadian Trade Prospects

With the close of the first six months of 1925, financial and commercial publications in Canada have been taking stock of the business situation throughout the Dominion. The conclusions reached by them as the result of careful surveys is that present conditions are better and prospects for the immediate future more promising than for some years past. This is especially true in regard to agriculture, and, as the West has always contended, a betterment in the farming outlook has a direct beneficial effect on manufacturing and all business.

Although actual returns from the farms are problematical until the crops are harvested, and it is never safe to closely estimate yields of grain and field crops until they are finally removed from all vagaries of weather, plant diseases and pests, the fact remains that at the end of June prospects throughout Canada, and especially in the Western Provinces, were better than for many years and, in the absence of widespread and extremely adverse conditions before harvest, the outlook is for one of the best and most profitable crops in ten years.

One financial paper in its annual review at the end of June states, on the basis of reports from all the Provinces, that the biggest increase in employment in two years has taken place, with the result that, except in the larger cities where the unemployed always congregate, there are few idle men. Manufacturing industries are busier than for years and in Ontario and Quebec real activity prevails with manufacturing near to capacity in several lines and some plants working overtime.

Record catches of fish on both the Atlantic and Pacific seaboard have taken place, immigration is increasing, the summer tourist traffic shows every indication of attaining a new high record, while the export trade of the Dominion continues to increase both in volume and value month by month. Building construction is likewise much greater than a year ago. Railway car loadings are smaller, but this is accounted for in two items, the smaller volume of last year's grain crop and reduction in the movement of coal resulting from labor troubles at the mines. On the other hand, there is a substantial increase in car loadings of manufactured articles and general merchandise, while this year's grain crop promises to more than offset the reduced volume of a year ago.

One of the significant developments is the steadily rising volume and value of Canada's export trade. For some years now the Dominion Government has been quietly negotiating trade treaties with other countries. One of the latest was with Australia and already British Columbia is looking forward to and preparing for a big expansion in trade with that sister Dominion. Before this article appears in print it is expected that the terms of a new trade arrangement with the British West Indies will be announced. Inasmuch as each and every one of these reciprocal agreements provides for the removal of artificial restrictions on trade through the lowering of customs duties and the wiping out of other obstacles to the free exchange of commodities, and are frequently accompanied by the provision of larger and improved facilities of communication and transport, the effect cannot be otherwise than to greatly enlarge Canada's markets abroad, and, as repeatedly urged in this column, that is exactly what a young and producing country like Canada requires. Freer trade and wider markets are bound to bring about the Dominion's development leading to increased employment and production and resultant prosperity and growth in wealth.

A young country like Canada, with a comparatively small population, but huge resources and productive powers, and producing far more than its own people can consume, and already possessing manufacturing and other industries with capacities for production far in excess of the needs of home population, stands in need, not so much of protection of that restricted home market, but the removal of obstacles to trade with the world. We cannot grow strong and wealthy by merely trading with ourselves; that is too much a case of trying to lift oneself by the boot straps. Strength and wealth will come through producing for sale abroad, thus bringing into Canada the wealth derived through the sale of our products abroad.

Suggests Conference

Inter-Provincial Conference On Subject of Succession Duties

An inter-provincial conference on the subject of succession duties has been suggested by Premier John Bracken, of Manitoba, who has communicated with the governments of Ontario, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia.

Such a conference would be an aid in drafting uniform legislation and would solve many of the present problems common to all the provinces. Mr. Bracken suggests the conference be held in August, either at Winnipeg, Regina or Edmonton.

War Veterans To Unite

Ten Veterans' Organizations In Montreal To Join League

Montreal's ten war veterans' organizations, none of whom are united in the Dominion Veterans' Alliance, will all become members of the proposed Canadian legion, either by amalgamation or affiliation. S. D. Cunningham, secretary of the Quebec council of the alliance, stated. He said all were sympathetic to the legion and five have already expressed an intention to join. These were four branches of the Great War Veterans' Association, and the Tuberculosis Veterans' Association.

"And what did you say your business was?" asked the young lady. "I run a fox farm." "My goodness! Do you plant the dear little foxes?"

How Germany Solves Housing Problem

Families Allotted Space According To Number Of Members

They have a speedy method of solving the housing problem in Germany, according to an English paper, which says:

"You have here a flat of eight rooms; you are three in family. You will live, in future, in three rooms. Another family will move in next week to occupy the other five rooms. Good morning."

What would a British (or Canadian) householder say if an official said such a thing to him, and if he knew that he could neither protest nor refuse?

Yet that is what happens in Berlin every day. Next time we are inclined to grumble at hard conditions in our own country, it may help us to be more contented if we realize what the Germans put up with.

Rents are adjusted according to the number of rooms occupied in a house or flat. Thus, the family using five rooms in an eight-roomed house—with the original tenant inhabiting the other three rooms—will pay five-eighths of the rental.

NATURE'S WARNINGS

Danger Signals That Everyone Should Take Seriously

Pain is one of Nature's warnings that something is wrong with the body. Indigestion, for instance, is characterized by pains in the stomach, and often about the heart; rheumatism by sharp pains in the limbs and joints; headaches are a sign that the nerves or stomach are out of order. In some ailments, such as anaemia, pain is not so prominent. In this case Nature's warning take the form of pallor, breathlessness after slight exertion, palpitation of the heart, and loss of appetite. Whatever form these warnings take, wise people will not ignore the fact that many diseases have their origin in poor blood, and that when the blood is enriched the trouble disappears. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are most helpful in such cases because they purify and build up the blood to its normal strength. In this way it tones up the nerves, restores the appetite and gives perfect health. Miss Hazel Herald, of Annapolis, Ont., has proved the great value of this medicine and says:—"I am a young girl and have been working in a factory for the past four years. For two years I had been in such poor health that at times I could not work. I was thin and pale, and troubled with headaches and fainting spells. I doctored nearly all this time, but it did not help me. My mother advised me to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and after using about a dozen I could notice an improvement in my condition. I used nine boxes and can truthfully say that my health is restored. When I began taking the pills I weighed 97 pounds and now I weigh 111. I feel that I owe my good health to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and hope other ailing people will give them a fair trial."

You can get these pills through any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Soviet Denies Intrigues

Would Avoid Any Action Which Could Be Regarded As Intervention In China

Foreign Minister Tchitcherine has issued a statement declaring that while the sympathies of the Russians are on the side of the Chinese in their struggle for complete liberation from foreign domination, the Soviet Government's policy is to avoid any action which could be regarded as intervention in China's internal affairs.

The statement was prompted by attacks upon Soviet Russia in the English newspapers in connection with the present situation in China. The foreign minister denies that Soviet Russia is carrying on intrigues in China against British trade or against foreigners in general.

Another Title For Prince

The latest title granted to the Prince is that of "Alluvial Diamond Digger." An official certificate entitling him to this honor was presented by the "Digger's Committee" of West Barbary. He was somewhat amused when he was informed by the committee that the certificate is accorded "only to persons of indubitable honesty."

The Canadian Arctic

The merest glance at the map, or better at a globe, shows that if commercial aviation fulfills the hopes of its promoters the great intercolonial air lanes will lie in the far north. Siberia and Alaska will both have great importance, and so will any island found further north, even if it is only big enough to provide a filling station and enough level ground for an aviator to alight and take off.—Springfield Republican.

The Value Of Vitamins

Contain Some of the Most Jealously Hidden Secrets of Nature

Science has discovered that vitamins contain some of the most jealously hidden secrets in nature's laboratory. The vitamin family is a large one, and thus our intimate acquaintance with only three members commonly designated vitamins A, B, and C. Facts concerning two others, D and E, are at present being tabulated, and, while the alphabet is extensive, definite progress appears under way.

It is not more than a dozen years ago that the word vitamin was originated to describe a property of nature long understood in a vague way. Earlier than the attempt to isolate and comprehend this property a means had been found of applying it. For example, vitamin C represents the one effective check to the disease of scurvy; long before science had given vitamin C a name or attempted to grasp its influences this element was used to combat the most dreaded plague known to seafaring men. Scurvy, caused by lack of vitamin C in the diet, capitulated when food containing the necessary element was pitched against it.

The importance of vitamins has, however, a far broader scope, this matter of lime juice and scurvy serving merely to emphasize the part which vitamins play in man's welfare. Vitamin A, for instance, touches the question of life itself. Experiments with rodents tend to show that the absence of vitamin A in sufficient quantities will cut down the life span and considerably restrict productivity. A normal or liberal allowance, on the other hand, has the opposite effect. From these experiments scientists feel safe in reducing man's inability to live without vitamins.

All important vitamins occur with the greatest frequency in cod liver oil, butter, milk, liver, herring, egg yolk, alfalfa, clover, cabbage, carrots, sweet potatoes and spinach. They are said to be practically absent from Irish potatoes, lean meat, malt extract, wheat bran, grapes, olive oil, corn oil, lard, tallow and yeast cakes. It may safely be said that the best way to insure a proper supply of vitamins is by the inclusion of enough milk, vegetables and fruit in the daily food supply. Milk is especially rich in vitamin A, with a liberal amount of vitamin B as well, and smaller but notable quantities of vitamin C. Fruits and vegetables, although varying widely, constitute the most important source of vitamin C. So if we have an abundant supply of milk on the one hand and fruit and vegetables on the other, we can assure ourselves that the vitamins are present in adequate volume.

Tossed Around 600-Pound Safe Like A Toy

An unidentified "strong man" at Patterson, N. J., with a vocabulary of only two words, tossed around a 600-pound safe, tipped the door off, pushed aside seven policemen and a store proprietor, dived through a plate glass window, knocked two men down and finally was captured, by means of a tying football tackle. Somewhere in the course of these activities he received some severe knocks on the head, one of which, physicians said, might prove fatal.

The man was unidentified because he could only say "all right." He appeared otherwise dumb and was not able to write.

Coarse Grain Pool

Drive Is On In Saskatchewan To Put Plan In Operation

An intensive campaign to secure contracts for the Saskatchewan coarse grain pool is now in full swing.

The objectives set for the coarse grain pool are 1,633,000 acres of oats; 213,000 acres of barley; 233,000 acres of flax and 89,000 acres of rye. This represents one-third of the oats and barley acreages in the province and one-half the acreages sown to flax and rye.

Pool delegates and officers of locals are confident that the required acreage will be secured to enable the pool to operate.

Talked Over Wireless From Ship to Ship

Boats On Atlantic Experiment Successfully With Wireless Phones

Wireless telephone conversation between passengers on different ships at sea, and with persons on land, has been carried on simultaneously for the first time.

The appliance, a German invention, was brought into New York port by the North German Lloyd liner Columbus, during the voyage, talked to friends aboard the liner Deutschland, 150 miles away. The toll charge was $2.50 for eight minutes of conversation. The apparatus is a duplex sending and receiving set, operating on a wave length of 1,800 or 1,450 metres. When one person finishes speaking, the current of the sending apparatus is switched off, and, in an instant, the receiving apparatus is turned on to receive the reply.

Not Hard To Imagine

Average Person Does Not Question Speed of Aeroplanes

The speed record in the air, held by Lieut. Alford J. Williams, Jr., is 266 miles an hour. Dr. Otto A. Koller, a German aeronautical expert, says he will enter two planes in the Pulitzer trophy races next October, one of them capable of flying 400 miles an hour.

To the man on the ground, mileage per hour probably ceases to mean little after the 200 miles an hour mark has been passed. Four hundred miles an hour is no harder to imagine than 266 miles. If Dr. Koller believes his new plane will fly a mile in about the fastest human time for 100 yards, there is no good reason for the layman's insisting on Missouri parentage.—Buffalo Courier.

Use Miller's Worm Powders and the battle against worms is won. These powders correct the morbid conditions of the stomach which nourish worms, and these destructive parasites cannot exist after they come in contact with the medicine. The worms are speedily evacuated with either refuse from the bowels. Soundness is imparted to the organs and the health of the child steadily improves.

You never can tell. Some people aim so high they never hit anything on earth.

Excellent for Croupy Children.—When a child is suffering with croup it is a good plan to use Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. It reduces the inflammation and loosens the phlegm, giving speedy relief to the little sufferer. It is equally reliable for sore throat and chest, earache, rheumatic pains, cuts, bruises and sprains. Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil is regarded by many thousands as an indispensable of the family medicine chest.

Reliable and Honorable Soldier Says General von Kuhl

General von Kuhl, Germany's leading authority on what is known here as "scientific militarism," in writing a long obituary notice on the Earl of Ypres in the Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung, quotes freely and sympathetically from both Colonel Repington and Lord Ypres' own memoirs. In summing up, he writes:

"The picture which history has to show of him is that of a reliable and honorable soldier, who always did honor to England's name, whenever he appeared on the field of battle, and whose adversaries are bound to do him honor, too. But he was not a great military leader, for, whenever fate confronted him with such tasks he showed that the sacred fire did not burn within him, and that daring and boldness were not his strongest points."—Berlin Correspondent of London Observer.

Connect West Coast With the Prairies

Last Link In Motor Trail Now Being Completed

Before the end of the present year the Fraser River canyon route will be completed and British Columbia will have constructed the last link in the chain of roads that will connect the west coast of Canada with the prairies. Construction has been rushed along the Fraser during the summer months, with the result that progress has been even more rapid than was at first expected and the road may be completed before the first snow falls.

For years the trans-continental highway has existed with one single gap—that between Hope and Princeton. Now that gap is being bridged and when the road is finished it will add one of the most scenic highways on the continent to the all-Canadian artery. The possibilities of the route in the development of tourist traffic between the coast provinces and the prairies are regarded as beyond calculation.

It wakes the parrot and what the bird says would arouse anybody."—Boston Transcript.

Washington Man Proves Success of His Latest Invention

C. Francis Jenkins, the Washington inventor, successfully demonstrated his latest invention, "radio vision," to Secretary of the Navy Wilbur and other U. S. Government officials. Mr. Jenkins has also revealed the fact that pictures may be sent by radio in natural colors.

"It is well known that pictures in color are in common use in magazine printing, in window transparencies and decorations," Mr. Jenkins explains, "the process consisting in making three negatives, one through a red screen, a second through a green screen, and a third through a blue screen. When transparencies from these three negatives, each stained in its complimentary color, red, green and blue, are superimposed and viewed by transmitted light, the resultant picture is seen in its natural colors."

CAPTAIN BLOOD
RAFAEL SABATINI

Copyrighted, 1922, by Rafael Sabatini

"CAPTAIN BLOOD," a Vitaphone picture with J. Warren Kerrigan in the title role, is an adaptation of this thrilling novel.

And their own they made her in the end, and at cost of nearly half their numbers. Driven to the quarter-deck, the surviving defenders, urged on by the infuriated Rivarol, maintained awhile their desperate resistance. But in the end, Rivarol went down with a bullet in his head, and the French remnant, numbering scarcely a score of whole men, called for quarter.

Even then the labors of Blood's men were not at an end. The Elizabeth and the Medusa were tight-locked, and Hagthorpe's followers were being driven back aboard their own ship for the second time. Prompt measures were demanded. Whilst Pitt and his seamen bore their part with the sails, and Ogle went below with a gun-crew, Blood ordered the grapples to be loosened at once. Lord Willoughby and the Admiral were already aboard the Victrolense. As they swung off to the rescue of Hagthorpe, Blood, from the quarter-deck of the conquered vessel, looked his last upon the ship that had served him so well. A moment she rocked after her release, then slowly and gradually settled down, the water gurgling and eddying about her topmasts, all that remained visible to mark the spot where she had met her death. As he stood there, above the ghastly shambles in the waist of the Victrolense, someone spoke behind him. "Captain Blood, never before have I seen the impossible made possible by resource and valor, or victory so gallantly snatched from defeat."

He turned, and presented to Lord Willoughby a formidable front. His head-piece was gone, his breastplate dented, his right sleeve a rag hanging from his shoulder about a naked arm.

MISERABLE AND ALWAYS IN PAIN

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a Dependable Help for Mothers

Port Greville, Nova Scotia.—"I took your medicine for a terrible pain in my side and for weakness and headaches. I seemed to float all over, too, and my feet and hands were the worst. I am the mother of four children and I am nursing my baby—the first one of four I could nurse. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before the baby's birth, so you can see how much it helped me. I cannot praise it too highly for what it has done for me. I took all kinds of medicine, but the Vegetable Compound is the only one that has helped me for any length of time. I recommend it to any one with troubles like mine and you may use my letter for a testimonial."—Mrs. ROBERT McCULLLEY, Port Greville, Nova Scotia.

Before and after child-birth the mother will find Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a blessing.

Many, many letters are received giving the same sort of experience as is given in this letter. Not only is the mother benefited, but these good results pass on to the child.

No harmful drugs are used in the preparation of this medicine—just roots and herbs—and it can be taken in safety by the nursing mother.

98 out of every 100 women reported benefit from its use in a recent canvass among women users of this medicine, C brows and pursed his heavy lips. His eyes twinkled humorously in his great face.

"So!" he said. "Fery boedical!" My lord wheeled forcibly upon Captain Blood.

"If you want your past forgotten and your future assured, this is your chance. Your duty lies here, at least for as long as the war lasts. When the war's over, you may get back to Somerset and elder or your native Ireland and its potheen, but until then you'll make the best of Jamaica and rum."

Van der Kuylen exploded into laughter. But Blood remained solemn to the point of gloominess. His thoughts were on Miss Bishop, who was somewhere here in this very house in which they stood, but whom he had not seen since his arrival. Had she but shown him some compassion.

And then the rasping voice of Willoughby cut in again, upbraiding him for his hesitation, pointing out to him his incredible stupidity in trifling with such a golden opportunity as this. He stiffened and bowed.

"My lord, you are in the right. It shall be as you wish; and very gratefully, let me assure your lordship. I shall know how to earn his majesty's approbation. You may depend upon my loyal services."

Thus it was settled. Blood's commission was made out and sealed in the presence of Mallard, the commandant.

"We sail tomorrow morning," his lordship announced. Blood was startled.

"And Colonel Bishop?" he asked.

"He becomes your affair. You are now the Governor. You will deal with him as you think proper on his return. Hang him on his own yardarm. He deserves it."

"Isn't that a trifle invidious?" wondered Blood.

"Very well. I'll leave a letter for him. I hope he'll like it."

Captain Blood took up his duties at once. With the sanction of Lord Willoughby he marshalled his buccaners and surrendered to them one-fifth of the captured treasure, leaving to their choice thereafter either to depart or to enrol themselves in the service of King William.

A score of them elected to remain, and amongst these were Jeremy Pitt, Ogle and Dyke, whose outlawry, like Blood's, had come to an end with the downfall of King James. They were—saying old—Wolverstone, who had been left behind at Cartagena—the only survivors of that band of rebels—convict who had left Barbadoes over three years ago in the Cinco Lagas.

On the following morning, whilst van der Kuylen's fleet was making finally ready for sea, Blood sat in the spacious white-washed room that was the Governor's office, when Major Mallard brought him word that Bishop's homing squadron was in sight.

"I am glad he comes before Lord Willoughby's departure. The orders, Major, are that you place him under arrest the moment he steps ashore."

Peter Blood sat back in his chair and stared at the ceiling, frowning. Came a tap at the door, and an elderly negro slave presented himself. Would his excellency receive Miss Bishop? He sat quite still, conscious that his pulses were drumming in a manner wholly unusual to them. Then quietly he assented.

He rose when she entered, and if he was not as pale as she was, it was because his tan dissembled it. For a moment there was silence between them, as they stood looking each at the other. Then she moved forward, and began at last to speak, haltingly, in an unsteady voice, amazing in one usually so calm and deliberate.

"I . . . I . . . Major Mallard has just told me . . ."

"Major Mallard exceeded his duty," said Blood, and because of the effort he made to steady his voice it sounded harsh and unduly loud. "You alarm yourself without reason, Miss Bishop. Whatever may lie between me and your uncle, you may be sure that I shall not follow the example he has set me. I shall not abuse my position to prosecute a private vengeance. On the contrary, I shall abuse it to protect him. Lord Willoughby's recommendation to me is that I shall treat him without mercy. My own intention is to send him back to his plantation in Barbadoes."

She came slowly forward now. "I . . . I am glad that you will do that. Glad, above all, for your own sake."

"Damme!" snapped Willoughby, "should I offer it unless I were satisfied of your capacity? If that's your only objection—"

"It is not, my lord. I had counted upon going home, so I had. I am hungry for the green lanes of England." He sighed. "There will be apple blossoms in the orchards of Somerset."

"Apple blossoms!" His lordship's voice shot up like a rocket, and crackled on the word. "What the devil? Apple blossoms!" He looked at van der Kuylen. The admiral raised his

War Secret Just Revealed

Why King George Gave Decoration to Marshal Foch

A Paris paper publishes an interview with Marshal Foch on the dark days of October, 1914, when Lord French was in command of the British army and holding up the Germans in Belgium.

"I met French, whom I knew, before the war, at Ypres in October, 1914," said Marshal Foch. "In spite of the promise of his name, he spoke French badly and understood less. This is the way we managed to understand each other."

Marshal Foch then cut off a piece of paper about five by four inches from a sheet of foolscap.

"It was a piece of paper no bigger than this which held the whole plan of the battle of Ypres," he said. "I wrote on it: 'First, here are the troops, let them stay; second, let them stick there, let them hang on, no matter what happens.'"

"I handed him the paper. 'To-morrow,' I said, 'I will send what I can spare from my 9th Corps to your left, and to your right what arrives of the 16th.' That was all. It was written; if it did not succeed, the responsibility was mine."

"French read it. We looked at each other for a moment. I thought he was going to exclaim that it was impossible. Not at all. He said nothing."

"In that moment, perhaps, the fate of the world, certainly that of England, was decided. My old war comrade showed confidence. He turned over the paper and wrote on the back. 'To be carried out,' and signed 'F. F.' Well, you see how right he was. Then imagine what happened to me at Cassel, where I had my G.H.Q."

"On December 2 the King of England, in person, if you please, said to me, 'General French has told me what my troops, he, England and I myself owe to you. Although the laws of the order do not permit such a high dignity to be conferred on a general, even of an army, I will waive that and make you a Knight Grand Cross of the Order of the Bath.'"

Want Lots Of Funnels

European Emigrants Believe They Make Ship Safer

Two new liners which have just been fitted with three funnels each, instead of the one funnel which was fitted in their sister ship.

The change is curiously interesting, because it is mainly dictated by the human element and not by any special engineering necessity.

Shore-living citizens who go to sea like plenty of funnels in their ships. There is a queer idea abroad that the more funnels a ship has the faster she steams. The central European emigrants have a deeply rooted belief that the safety of the ship is determined by the number of funnels.

It is a well-known fact in the shipping world that emigrants have refused to sail in certain ships because there were not enough funnels. The literature that has been shown to them in Cracow, Premysl, and Nijn Novgorod showed a ship with three funnels, and they were not going by any other ship, by any ship that was not important enough to have more than one funnel.

Your Option

More than half the disease and sickness afflicting civilization and overcrowding our hospitals might easily be prevented if men and women would, on their own account, exercise something approaching the knowledge and skill which they lavish upon their cars and domestic animals. They study and discuss with each other the pros and cons of the minutest detail connected with obtaining maximum efficiency of the machines they ride in, while countless volumes from the pens of eminent authorities are pored over in exhaustive search for the best procurable information regarding correct feeding and care of horses, cattle, poultry, dogs and cats.

With both man and beast "the blood is the life" and the composition of the blood is dependent upon the nature of the food supplied the digestive organs. The body of every living creature contains sixteen elements. Like elements exist in fertile soil and in the tissues of healthy plants and the human body can only be maintained in health by a requisite supply of all these essential elements which, in variety and perfection, are bountifully provided by Nature.

The diseases of civilization have increased to an alarming extent by the refinement of natural foods to the practical extinction of the organic salts essential to the production and maintenance of a good condition of the blood. Man is the only creature known to destroy the health-preserving values of his food.

For example, white flour is produced by the extraction of three-fourths of the mineral salts and colloids from the wheat, including the salts of phosphorus, sulphur, calcium, potassium, iron, chlorine, fluorine, magnesium, manganese, etc. Hence, the author, Alfred W. McCann, justifiably terms white bread "a foodless food."

The bolling of vegetables dissolves most of their priceless mineral salts. All vegetables which require cooking should be cooked by steaming. Cookers or steamers, of various makes, can be bought which allow vegetables to be cooked without loss of salts. Such steamers are economical—saving fuel and space, as several saucapans are fitted one above the other—1 pudding, 2 potatoes, 3 vegetables or roots, 4 meat, poultry or fish.

Excessive consumption of white sugar and all forms of preserved fruits and starches produce such maladies as catarrh, hay-fever, asthma, rheumatism, arthritic, heart disease, etc., the body no longer retaining its normal alkalinity of the blood, the nature of the ensuing disease largely depends on the inherited tendencies of the subject.

Originally endowed with sound constitutions, men and women may, with apparent impunity, defy Nature's laws and requirements regarding their diet for years, but, for such defiance, Nature will sooner or later exact commensurate penalties.

Only in recent years has the subject of correct rational diet occupied civilized public attention, but with the knowledge easily obtainable concerning this vitally important matter, it has now literally become your option to forthwith commence making long due restitution to your body or to look forward to such physical pains and penalties as will be demanded by Nature for your past neglect before your premature death terminates the healthful life which still belongs to you if you wish to retain enjoyment of your most valuable possession. The fact that the uncivilized races, which live naturally, are unacquainted with almost all the fashionable, but nevertheless fatal, diseases of civilization, emphasizes the truth of the statement that the further we depart from Nature's inviolable laws regarding our food, the quicker we create trouble for ourselves in the form of self-inflicted diseases naturally resulting from our insistence upon refinement and sophisticated cooking. 1639 A.D., George Herbert made a statement which has not yet been contradicted: "Whatsoever was the father of the disease, An ill diet was the mother."

Hoping that mental digestion of these lines will result in greatly improved health and happiness of their readers. Your sincerely,

CHARLES WALTER,
51 Brunswick Avenue, Toronto.

Gift That Is Invaluable

People Giving Blood to Hospitals Have Saved Many Lives

The British Government has conferred a decoration upon a member of an ambulance corps. During the last five years he has on 44 occasions given a pint of his blood to patients in a London hospital who were in a critical condition. He is quite a poor man, has never sought a penny reward, and says he did it "to help the hospital."

There are people who vow they "would give their life-blood" for one cause or another. Here is a man who is literally doing it. We help our hospitals with linen, canned fruit and sometimes with money. How many ever think of offering their blood? It is just as useful in a hospital as any other gift. Large institutions have their lists of regular contributors of blood, tested and tabulated healthy people ready to answer a sudden call. Any hospital would appreciate an offer of that kind. It means a great deal more than a cheque; it may mean the saving of somebody's life, and money alone cannot do that.

The Bow Valley District U.F.A. & U.F.W.A. Association will hold their next convention at Namaka on Aug. 8th.

Next Friday night, July 31st, a "Hard Times Dance" will be given in the Arrowood Consolidated School, with the Gleichen orchestra in attendance. Everybody is invited.

Harvey Wensen is the first to report to the Call having new potatoes this year, which he says are now a good size and make fine munching. He first used his new potatoes on June 28th. Harvey is a hustler and always has good spuds.

The Call has received a report of a wedding said to have been solemnized at London, Ontario, of a man also said to live in this district. As the writer has not signed any name we must abide by our rules and consign it to the waste-basket. Again may we say the signature of the writer is required as a matter of good faith and not necessarily for publication.

A despatch from Kimberley, South Africa, says the Prince of Wales refused to accept a diamond of 65 carats which was offered to him as a souvenir when he visited the famous De Beers diamond works. He examined the great gem with keen interest, but smilingly shook his head when it was presented to him. He did accept a stone of 12 carats. This act shows the kind of a prince he is—he has caught the Western spirit all right, fellows.

The Mr. Gibney of the Old Sun school conducted Morning Prayer in St. Andrew's church last Sunday, as the Rev. N. Blunt at the last moment, through the sudden illness of a young clergyman, a very close friend of Mr. Blunt's, was prevented in returning back for services. This is not the first time Mr. Gibney has helped us and we are all most grateful to him for his kind services. We are almost certain of having Mr. Blunt for next Sunday. It is specially requested that St. Andrew's have a full Sunday school attendance for the church members want all the scholars possible to meet Mr. Blunt next Sunday morning.

The local boys who attended the C.S.E.T. camp at Jumping Pound returned home Friday morning of last week. All were delighted with the ten days holiday and have great accounts of the experience. It is reported that our boys did exceptionally well in the athletic events winning quite a number of badges. The only adverse criticism offered is that the camp period was too short. The food was excellent and plentiful and the camp surroundings in delightful contrast to the prairie. Camp Nissaki will have good advertising from our Trail Rangers and plans are being made already for next year's outing. The number attending will quite likely be larger.

IN MEMORIAM

BATTY—In loving memory of our dear little Muriel, who left us July 24th, 1924.

The rolling streams of time goes on, But still the vacant chair Recalls the love, the smile, the voice Of her who once sat there.

'Tis sweet to know we'll meet again Where partings are no more; And the dear one we loved so well Has just gone before. Sadly missed by Daddy, Mother and sisters.
